DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-42 and 44 are presented for examination. Applicant filed an amendment on 11/26/2008 amending Claims 1, 18, 31, 35 and 38, and cancelling Claim 43. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 for at least the reason below.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-17, drawn to a system for processing requests for purchase of creative works comprising a user interface routine, process handling routine, accounting routine, administrative interface routine and benefit redemption routine, classified in class 705, subclass 36
- II. Claims 18-34, drawn to a method of proving presentation information to an user seeking financial sponsorship and notifying patrons concerning attainment of benefit and the availability of substitution to a different work, classified in class 705, subclass 36
- III. Claims 35-42, 44, drawn to a system for receiving visual/audio information about creative work and conveying this information to potential patrons comprising administrative transaction handler, patron transaction handler, storage medium, accounting engine, administrative interface and a benefit redemption processing engine, classified in class 705, subclass 36.

The inventions are independent or distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as providing viewing access for the artist associated with the undeveloped creative work of the monetary amount in the locked account. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination III has separate utility such as receiving visual or audio information about undeveloped creative work and conveying the information to remote devices for presentation to potential patrons. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
